Introduction

Beurs van Berlage C.V. is an international conference and event organisation. We organise and facilitate gatherings of people at national and international events. We organise conferences and act as a conference, event and meeting centre. We aim at making the Guest's participation in a conference or event as pleasant as possible. In this respect, we also act as the intermediary for the Supplier. We cannot perform those activities without your information. Therefore, to offer you the best possible service, we process personal and other data about you.

This privacy statement sets out what personal data Beurs van Berlage C.V. collects and uses about you, and how we handle such personal data. Furthermore, it indicates what measures we have implemented to protect your data. This applies to all means of communication that you use to contact us, such as the Internet, e-mail and social media. We recommend that you read this privacy statement carefully.

Beurs van Berlage C.V. will at all times comply with the applicable laws and regulations, including the General Data Protection Regulation.

We are aware of our responsibility to handle your data with due care. Therefore, we have implemented several security measures and we are meticulous in selecting our Suppliers and Organisers.

Furthermore, we indicate what you can do to have your data deleted from our systems.

We recommend that you read this privacy statement carefully. This statement is subject to adjustment by us. It would be advisable to re-read this privacy statement on a regular basis. If you cannot agree to our privacy statement, please do not use our services. We cannot use your data without your approval, in which case, therefore, we cannot provide our Intermediary Services. If you do, however, agree to our privacy statement, nothing will stand in the way of our providing you with the best possible service!

Why does Beurs van Berlage C.V. collect my personal data?

First of all, we use your personal data, for example, to inform you of our services; to form an agreement; or to act as an intermediary between you and the Supplier. We use the data provided by you, for example, to book you a room at the hotel of your choice, or we arrange registration for a conference.

In addition, we collect your personal data to contact you about our Intermediary Services. That way, we can immediately contact you if there are any questions, uncertainties or problems. We may do so by telephone, by e-mail or using other means of communication.

Furthermore, we may contact you to improve our service provision. For example by requesting you to participate in a survey about our service provision.

What personal data does Beurs van Berlage C.V. collect? This privacy statement sets out what personal data we process about you. That does not mean that we will process all the data about you listed herein. That will depend on the services that you use and the data that you submit to us.

What does Beurs van Berlage C.V. do to protect my personal data?

In accordance with applicable legislation, we have proper procedures in place to avoid abuse of your data.

Beurs van Berlage C.V. uses modern software to process your data. Furthermore, only authorised staff have access to your data.

If your payment details (such as a credit card number) are required for performance of the Intermediary Services, the relevant data will be stored with a certified third party.

How are those personal data processed?

Storage of your data is required to realise proper service provision and/or Intermediary Services. To achieve this goal, we must store your data in our database.

We use those data to create summaries for our Suppliers and/or Organisers, so that they know what services to offer or provide and who their contracting party is.

Furthermore, Beurs van Berlage C.V. may carry out automated processing or checks in respect of such data. Such processing or checks will be carried out for the purposes of combating fraud, improving our service provision, developing products and/or marketing.

Are my personal data shared with third parties?

The primary purpose is to share your data with the Supplier and/or the Organiser in order to complete the Agreement. In addition, your data (or an analysis thereof) may be shared with the Organiser.

If an Organiser or Supplier has their own client service, we will share your data with the client service at their request. This way, we ensure that such client service can quickly and adequately provide you with information.

We may request other parties to process your personal data for us. Such processing may serve specific purposes, for example marketing purposes. Any such processor is expressly restricted to the purposes determined by us. They may not outsource any services without our consent. They are to promptly notify us of any irregularities (such as a data leak).

If a Guest reverses a payment (chargeback), we will share the booking information with the payment service. The payment service may use such information to assess whether such a chargeback was lawful.

Authorities may require us to disclose certain data for their investigation. Furthermore, we may disclose data to the authorities in order to protect our rights and properties (and those of Guests and Suppliers).

Your personal data may be transferred to countries outside the EU, because our service providers are based in a country outside the EU, such as Switzerland. Such countries may not provide the same level of protection as countries within the EU. Beurs van Berlage C.V. will implement appropriate measures to protect your personal data in such circumstances as well. Your data may also be stored by third parties outside the EU in the event of use of Google Analytics, Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn. Those parties are 'EU-US privacy shield' registered, which means that they will comply with the European privacy regulations.

For how long will my data be retained?

Beurs van Berlage C.V. will not retain your personal data any longer than necessary for the purposes of the processing listed above. This means that your personal data will be retained for as long as they are needed to realise such purposes. Certain personal data must, however, be retained longer by us, because Beurs van Berlage C.V. is required to comply with the statutory retention obligations, such as the retention obligation for tax purposes.

Cookies

Beurs van Berlage C.V. uses cookies to collect information about its clients, for purposes of targeted communication, including the provision of service information about its products and targeted marketing activities surrounding those products and third parties selected by it, if applicable.

What about mobile devices?

Our Platform/Platforms can be reached using mobile devices. Furthermore, you may contact us (by e-mail or telephone) using a mobile device. During such contact or visit to our website, information may be transmitted about your device or your location. Beurs van Berlage C.V. will not store or use any such information.

How can you access your data and can you require correction and deletion of your data?

You are the owner of your data. If you request us to grant you access to your data or to correct or definitively delete such data, we are under the obligation to comply with such request. The same applies to your 'right to be forgotten'. You may send such a request by e-mail to marketing@beursvanberlage.com. To comply with your request, we will ask you to indicate the data to which your request relates. If you state "Request regarding my personal data" in the subject line, we can quickly and adequately process your request.

Who is responsible for my data?

The controller for your data is:
